DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Amendments to the specification were noted. However, the disclosure is referring to the claims in page 2, paragraph 2 (line 9).

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Feucht et al (US 2006/01254890) in view of Kobrin.

Feucht discloses a sensor having a piezoelectric layer (4), and electrodes (5, 6) formed on the top of the piezoelectric layer, wherein a sensing layer (8) covers, at least partially, the electrodes.

However, Feucht fails to disclose the resonator comprising an acoustic reflector formed between the piezoelectric layer and a substrate.

Kobrin discloses the use of the acoustic reflector to provide acoustic isolation between the thin film acoustic resonator and the substrate. Therefore, it would have been obvious at the time of the invention was made to use the reflector as disclosed by Kobrin to provide acoustic isolation.

Art Unit: 2834

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Feucht et al (US 2006/01254890) in view of Kim et al. (US 6293136)

Feucht discloses the invention as explained above, but fails to disclose the sensor comprising an acoustic reflector, the first and the second electrode being interdigitated electrode, the sensor comprises a plurality of individually addressable resonator, and the sensing layers of the different resonators comprising different materials.

Kim discloses the idt's, the acoustic reflector and different coatings.

Kim's invention eliminates the need to provide other relatively more complicated temperature compensating structure or to maintain the device at a predetermined constant temperature, and further discloses that the invention can be used to detect different chemicals or substances. Therefore, it would have been obvious at the time of the invention was made to use idt's, an acoustic reflector and different sensing layers to have a sensor which can be used at different temperatures and a sensor that could measure different substances.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892.
